

Technical Inspection

Dear Sirs

The Tile Association Technical Inspection

I refer to your enquiry regarding the TTA Technical Inspection Service. I have pleasure in giving details of the Technical Inspection service offered by this Association.

The Technical Inspection on site service offered by this Association provides for an expert inspection and impartial written report on the quality of workmanship of the fixing of wall and floor tiling at a particular site. The service does not report on the manufacture, shading or quality of the tiles themselves, but on the workmanship of the fixing technique adopted and its suitability for installation. Consideration may also be given as to the selection of the particular tile in relation to the work involved. The inspection is non destructive.

If it become apparent during the course of the inspection that remedial work may be necessary, recommendations as to such remedial work may be included at the discretion of the inspector.

Expenses may be charged when a site is not easily accessible to an inspector. Additional fees will be incurred for court attendance and if additional information is required over and above the contents and remit of the report.

The inspection offered is non-destructive, should it become apparent that destructive testing is required; an additional fee of £55 plus VAT will be charged and should be paid directly to the inspector at the time of the inspection. Destructive testing will be undertaken at the client's own risk. The Tile Association takes no responsibility for damage incurred during destructive testing.

A domestic project is defined as a single area, up to the size of 25 square metres, i.e. bathroom, kitchen, hallway.

Please note inspections are carried out Monday-Friday during office hours.

Full payment including VAT is required at the time of instructions to proceed. A receipted invoice will be rendered at the time of, or shortly after, the date of the written report to the firm or person giving the instructions for the inspection and report.

The report is made by the Association acting as an expert, and not as an arbitrator or a mediator. No extension, implied or actual, of the scope of this service offered can be accepted and no liability in contract tort or otherwise attaches to the Association or its agents in respect of any advice, or lack of advice, given in such report. The Association reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to decline any request for the service.

Arrangements to proceed can only be put in hand upon return of a copy of the inspection booking form, having been duly completed, together with full payment and copies of all relevant correspondence.

Yours faithfully,

Brian Newell
Technical Director

Technical Inspection

Terms and conditions for use with TTA independent inspections

1. The onsite technical inspection service offered by this Association provides for an expert inspection and impartial written report on the quality of workmanship of the fixing of wall and floor tiling at a particular site. The service does not report on the manufacture, shading or quality of the tiles themselves, but on the workmanship of the fixing technique adopted and its suitability for installation.
2. Inspections undertaken by The Tile Association are based on the requirements of relevant British Standards, for example, BS5385, the Code of Practice for fixing wall and floor tiles and BS 8000 Part 11, Workmanship on building sites –Part 11: Internal and external wall and floor tiling – Ceramic and agglomerated stone tiles, natural stone and terrazzo tiles and slabs, and mosaics, together with relevant Tile Association technical documents.
3. Inspections are carried out Monday to Friday between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Additional fees will be charged for inspections undertaken outside of these hours.
4. The content of the report will be based on information provided by the client at or before the time of inspection. The report may be subject to alteration, at additional cost to the client, should additional technical information be made available after the report has been issued.
5. The inspection offered is non-destructive, should it become apparent that destructive testing is required; an additional fee of £55 per tile plus VAT will be charged and should be paid directly to the inspector at the time of the inspection. Destructive testing will only be undertaken at the client's own risk. The Tile Association takes no responsibility at all for damage that may be incurred during destructive testing.
6. During the inspection Schmidt hammers or Rebound hammers are frequently used when investigating floor failures. The tool measures the coefficient of restitution of the flooring (the solidity of the installed floor tile). The use of this or any other testing product may result in damage to the tiling should the bed contain voids. This testing will be undertaken at the client's own risk and The Tile Association takes no responsibility for damage incurred during such testing.
7. Should it become apparent that testing of tiles, adhesives or grouts is required; the client will be referred to UKAS, the UK Accreditation Service for details of an appropriate accredited testing house. The client will be responsible for arranging and paying for any tests.
8. Additional fees will be incurred for court attendance and if additional information is required once the report has been issued.
9. Additional fees or expenses may be charged if there is no inspector local to the inspection site.
10. The inspection will not be undertaken until the full payment has been paid and the final inspection report will not be issued until full payment for our services has been received.
11. The settlement of any additional costs must be settled within 14 days of the issue of the invoice.
12. The report is made by the Association acting as an expert, and not as an arbitrator or a mediator. No extension, implied or actual, of the scope of this service offered can be accepted and no liability in contract tort or otherwise attaches to the Association or its agents in respect of any advice, or lack of advice, given in such report.
13. The Association reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to decline any request for the service.
